Communication

(*) The Native Fish Monitoring and Recommendation Team (formerly called the Implementation Team) was formed in July 2011 to pursue nine opportunities to improve the status of native fish identified in the report issued by the 4 Way Forward science contractors in July and finalized in August of 2011. The Team published an Implementation, Monitoring and Evaluation Plan for Native Fish, which was released fall of 2012. They heard from many stakeholders and gathered feedback to produce an updated version published in June of 2014. Participating entities involved retain their institutional authorities and responsibilities while working to develop strategies that align the various interests of the agencies, boards and constituencies that have a stake in management of native fish within available water supplies. The Team operates within the guiding principles of the DRD.
