

Study Group Icon & Notes Summary Matrix Wolf Creek Landscape, Pagosa 4/28/'05

Primary Use	Concern	Opportunity
4WD	Altered Landscape	Encourage Multiple User Groups to cooperate
Back Country Skiing	ATV	Forest Health
Backpacking	Back country Skiing	Grazing
Fishing	Commercial use	Loop routes
Grazing	Forest Health	More XC Ski & Hiking trails
Hiking	Mixed Rec Use Conflict	Multiple recreation Use
Horseback	Motorized/Non Motorized conflict	Multiple Uses
Hunting	Mountain Biking	Non Motorized Recreation Area
Multiple Uses	Residential Impact/Conflict	Segregate Uses
Mushrooming	Riparian degradation	Special Interest Areas
Nature Observation	Snowmobiling	Wilderness Addition
Pleasure Drive	Weeds & Invasive Species	Wildlife habitat
River Running	Camping impacts on riparian areas	Expand ski area on west side of divide
Snowmobiling	Concentrated use during the winter brews conflicts	Make Treasure Mtn area wilderness
X-C Skiing	Designate different areas for skiers and snowmobiles	Segregate motorized from non-motorized
Outstanding Features	Development of private inholdings
Few Human Facilities	Impacts of Wolf Creek development on Forest
Groomed xc Skiing	Snowmobiles pack too much fresh snow
Multiple Recreation Use	Snowmobiles make winter trails unsafe
Multiple Uses	Widespread, unregulated snowmobile use
Natural Setting
Peaks/Summits
River/Streams
Snowmobile trails
Solitude
untracked Snow
Vegetation
Views/ScenicResources
Diverse wildlife habitat
Easy access to great trail system and backcountry skiing.
Example of a mountain glaciated valley
Upper end of a major watershed.
Views from river canyon to High Alpine		